

L'énergie latine du français dans les Essais

Publication type: Journal article

Journal: Bulletin de la Société internationale des amis de Montaigne

Author: Desbois-lentile (Adeline)

Abstract: In his Essays, Montaigne deplors the inability of the French to express complex ideas. He writes that he reverts to Latin to make up for its inadequacies. The article explores the different modes of relief (« secours ») possible, from the introduction of Latin quotations, fragments of an ancient thought, to the attempt to give the French language « unaccustomed movements » (« mouvements inaccoutumés ») by employing Latin words or syntactic structures.
