

Ramuzian primitivism and anthropology

Publication type: Journal article

Journal: Constellation Cendrars
2019, n° 3. varia

Author: Laborie (Laura)

Abstract: Anthropology, a new discipline that emerged at the beginning of the 20th century, has profoundly refreshed the interest in “primitive” while playing a fundamental role in the emergence of the primitivist movement. Studying the work of Charles-Ferdinand Ramuz, we will appreciate the influences that anthropologists' works have had on literature, giving rise to a very specific primitivism whose outlines will have to be defined.

Pages: 65 to 75

Journal: Cendrars Constellation

CLIL theme: 4027 -- SCIENCES HUMAINES ET SOCIALES, LETTRES -- Lettres et Sciences du langage -- Lettres -- Etudes littéraires générales et thématiques

EAN: 9782406097587

ISBN: 978-2-406-09758-7

ISSN: 2557-7360

DOI: 10.15122/isbn.978-2-406-09758-7.p.0065

Publisher: Classiques Garnier

Online publication: 10-02-2019

Periodicity: Annual

Language: French

Keyword: anthropology, modernism, universality, anti-rationalism, animism

Display online