

Paul Léautaud, antipatriote « en dehors de la mêlée »

Publication type: Article from a collective work

Collective work: La Grande Guerre des écrivains : études

Author: Kantorow (Monique)

Abstract: Resolutely individualist and antimilitarist, Paul Léautaud stopped reading newspapers once war had been declared. He was deeply affected by the abominations of a war which he disapproved of: the indifference that he displayed, his iconoclastic aggression, his bitter humour attacking warmongers and “patriots” translated his horror, disgust, and compassion for the suffering of victims.

Pages: 107 to 127

Collection: Encounters, n° 137

Series: Twentieth and twenty-first century literature, n° 21

CLIL theme: 4027 -- SCIENCES HUMAINES ET SOCIALES, LETTRES -- Lettres et Sciences du langage -- Lettres -- Etudes littéraires générales et thématiques

EAN: 9782812447341

ISBN: 978-2-8124-4734-1

ISSN: 2261-1851

DOI: 10.15122/isbn.978-2-8124-4734-1.p.0107

Publisher: Classiques Garnier

Online publication: 02-18-2016

Language: French

Display online