Abstract: After a quarter century of neo-liberalism, one must note that the mechanism of monopolization of the wealth is not any more between capitalists and workers through mechanisms of exploitation in the production ; it takes place now for the benefit of the financial groups and it is even more non-egalitarian. In front of this situation, alternatives are imagined, in particular "solidaires", outgoing dilemma State-market. To understand their construction, it is necessary to mobilize the concept of principle of economic integration created by Karl Polanyi.
