

Contacts français / langues africaines dans la métropole rouennaise

Publication type: Article from a collective work

Collective work: Les Métropoles francophones européennes en temps de globalisation

Author: Leconte (Fabienne)

Abstract: Drawing from the sociolinguistic situation of African migrants, this article questions the notion of territory as the only reference space of the concerned populations. Linguistic practices and perceptions evolve within fluid spaces and networks, both physical and virtual. This situation is all the more true for the earlier massive migrations resulting from colonial relations. The circulation between reference spaces has as much to do with the perceptions of the concerned populations as with other aspects.
