

The initial poems in Horace's poetry-books

Publication type: Article from a collective work

Collective work: Pratiques latines de la dédicace. Permanence et mutations, de l'Antiquité à la Renaissance

Author: Harrison (Stephen)

Abstract: This paper questions the links that the dedicatory poems of all Horace's books have with the poet's career : the examination of the successive dedicatees shows Horace's ascension in the Roman cultural milieu culminating with the dedication to Augustus himself (Epistles II, 1).
