

Récits brefs et mise en prose

Publication type: Article from a collective work

Collective work: Raconter en prose. XIVe-XVIe siècle

Author: Cifarelli (Paola)

Abstract: Prose rewritings were repeatedly carried out as a textual practice for testing the expressive potential of prose in short narratives. Starting from this hypothesis, a corpus of rewritings of short poems was made up (six isolated texts and two collections). Some provisional data are presented about the period in which the mises en prose were done and the kind of sources which were used; the typologies of prose and their relationship with verses.
